Privacy Policy

This website is operated by Toolkit Websites Limited on behalf of Arctic Air Conditioning & Refrigeration Limited. Here at Arctic we are committed to protecting your privacy and we adhere to data protection laws upheld in the United Kingdom.

This privacy policy applies to the personal information we collect about:

- Visitors to the website.
- Customers who purchase our goods and/or services and thus create an account with us.
- Suppliers.

What is defined by 'personal information'?

Personal information is any information relating to an individual who can be identified directly or indirectly, often by name, account number, location, an online identifier or other factors specific to their identity. Personal information may include "special category data" relating to racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious beliefs, membership of a trade union, physical or mental health and criminal records and allegations. As a rule, we do not collect "special category data" about visitors to our website or our customers or suppliers. The exception is where we identify suspected criminal activity such as fraudulent claims or the use of stolen payment card details. In this case we will record details of the suspected criminal activity and may take appropriate action, including refusing to accept orders, make payments or give refunds. We may also report the incident to the relevant bank or payment card issuer or to the police or other appropriate authorities.

See below for details of how we may use your personal information.

Website Visitors: The personal information we collect about you and how we use it.

You can visit and browse our website without providing your name or contact details.

Like many websites, our server logs capture details of your operating system, browser software, IP (Internet Protocol) address and Uniform Resource Locator (URL), including the date and time of your visit.

Toolkit Websites Ltd collect two types of cookies to analyse how our site is used by visitors and to provide some of the functionality.

"Absolutely Necessary Cookies:

As standard all of our websites only create two Cookies and these cookies are 'Absolutely Necessary' for the functioning of your website. These cookies are 'ASP.NET_SessionId' and "JSESSIONID". 'ASP.NET_SessionId' stores a 'Session ID' which is used by Microsoft .NET Framework to deliver the web pages to the visitor.

The New Relic JSESSIONID cookie is used to store a session identifier so that New Relic can monitor session counts for our applications. The cookie value is generated by Jetty.

We use New Relic to help us track any potential server errors and review the performance of our hosting platforms.

These cookies expire at the end of sessions which is when a visitor goes to another website or closes their browser window.

Because they does not remain on your computer it has no way of tracking your website usage or retaining any of your data post expiry. This means consent is not required.

Cookie Names: ASP.NET_SessionId, JSESSIONID." – Toolkit Website Ltd Cookie Policy.

You may choose to provide your contact details (name, address, business, job title, email address, telephone number) if you do any of these things:

- Submit a query or request a quote or other information
- Ask to be contacted by us
- Create an account

When you enter a competition or promotional feature we may also ask for details such as your name, address, email address and telephone number so we can administer the competition and notify winners.

Separate terms and conditions may apply when you open an account or if you decide to participate in a competition so please make sure that you read them at the relevant time.

Customers: The personal information we collect about you and how we use it.

If you purchase products or services from us, we may use your personal information in the following ways:

- to respond to your enquiries;
- to keep you informed about our products and services;
- to process your order and to follow up on orders that are not completed;

Personal information is any information relating to an individual who can be identified directly or indirectly, often by name, account number, location, an online identifier or other factors specific to their identity.

How your information is accessed within Arctic Air Conditioning & Refrigeration Ltd.

Arctic uses centralised finance, supplier and customer management systems. Your information may be accessed by others in Arctic for administrative and analytical purposes. However, you will not receive marketing from other Group companies unless you have agreed to that.

Keeping You Informed.

If you sign up to receive email updates or have bought or enquired about our products or services, we may use the information we collect to let you know about our other products and services which may be of interest to you and to keep you updated with information about promotional offers and what is coming soon.

We review the products and services you buy and we also analyse your use of our website and the searches you make on this. We use this information to tailor the online experience of our website. This may include serving you with adverts on social media and other third-party websites.

If you agree, we may pass your information to suppliers and manufacturers who are interested in getting in touch with you about their products and services.

You can opt out of receiving marketing communications from us at any time. You can also opt out of receiving marketing which is tailored to suit your customer profile.

Call Recording.

Some telephone calls may be recorded or monitored, for example calls to our customer services teams. Call recording and monitoring may be carried out for the following purposes:

- training and quality control;
- as evidence of conversations; and/or
- for the prevention or detection of crime (e.g. fraudulent claims).

Legal Basis for Processing.

Some of the information we collect is provided by you voluntarily (and therefore with your permission), for example when you submit a query.

If you purchase items from us, or if you supply products or services to us, most of the information we collect is necessary so that we can fulfil the contract between us.

The remainder of the information is collected for our legitimate business purposes, which include:

- To keep in touch with current, past and prospective customers
- To gain an understanding of how our customers interact with us so we can provide the most relevant products and services
- To monitor the use of our website and improve its facilities
- To identify suspected criminal activity and take appropriate action
- To manage our supply chain and the relationship with our suppliers (including the management of rebates and claimbacks)
- To protect and defend our rights

When we collect personal information from you we will indicate whether it is mandatory or voluntary – this is done on the website by using asterisks to mark mandatory fields.

Retention.

We will retain your personal information for as long as needed for the legitimate business purposes described above. If you are a visitor to the website, we will retain your information for a limited period in order to respond to your query, provide you with the information you require or to send you updates on our products and services for as long as you indicate that you are happy for us to do so.

If you make a one-off purchase, we normally keep records of the transaction for 7 years. If you are an account customer or a supplier, we normally keep records for 7 years after the closure of your account or the last purchase or sale you made. In all cases, this is for accounting, tax and product liability purposes.

Your information may be retained for longer than this if there are valid legal grounds for us to do so, for example if required by law or court order, or as needed to defend or pursue legal claims.

Working with Service Providers.

Like most organisations, we engage service providers to run our website and IT systems, to help us administer accounts, to conduct credit checks and fraud screening, and to handle postal and email marketing campaigns. We also work with a large number of suppliers who provide products and delivery services to us.

We will only provide these companies with the information they need to deliver the service we have engaged them for and they are prohibited from using that information for any other purpose. Whenever we share personal information about our customers or visitors to our website with our service providers, we will put in place contracts which require the service provider to protect the information and keep it secure.

Other Disclosures.

Your information may be shared within Arctic Air Conditioning & Refrigeration Ltd for account management (including credit accounts), analysis and reporting.

Your personal data may be disclosed to the following third parties for the purposes described above:

- tax, customs and excise authorities
- regulators, courts and the police
- fraud screening agencies
- central and local government
- insurance companies
- other professional advisors

We may also disclose your personal information if we believe that the disclosure is necessary to enforce or apply our terms and conditions or otherwise protect and defend our rights, property or the safety of our customers and other users of the website.

We may disclose and/or transfer your personal information in connection with a reorganisation of all or part of our business, if the majority of our shares are bought by another company or if we transfer all or some of our assets to another company.

Transferring information to other countries.

Some of the companies who provide services to us may be located outside the United Kingdom. As a result, your personal information may be transferred outside the UK. We will ensure that those service providers comply with any legal requirements that apply to the transfer of personal information outside the UK, including, where appropriate, requiring the service provider to sign the approved European Commission Standard Contractual Clauses for the transfer of personal data to third countries.

Security.

We are committed to safeguarding the personal information you provide to us. We use appropriate measures to protect the information that you submit through our website and the information we collect and store about our customers.

Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect your personal information, we cannot guarantee the security of information you submit via our website and any transmission is at your own risk. Once we have received your information, we will take appropriate technical and organisational measures to safeguard your personal data against loss, theft and unauthorised use, access or modification.

Changes to this policy.

Any changes to this privacy policy will be posted here. Please refer back to this page regularly.

Links to other websites.

Links may be provided on our website to other websites that are not operated by us. If you use these links, you will leave our website. You should note that we are not responsible for the contents of any third-party website. External sites will have their own privacy policies which you should read carefully.

Your Rights.

Marketing...

You can opt out of receiving emails or text or postal or telephone marketing by contacting us at info@arcticacr.co.uk.

Access and Correction...

If you would like to correct or update any of your other personal information, or if you would like a copy of the personal information we hold, please contact the Managing Director of Arctic Air Conditioning & Refrigeration Ltd at the address above. We may need to ask for proof of your identity before we can respond to your request.

Other Rights...

You may also have the following rights in relation to your personal information:

- in certain circumstances, the right to restrict or object to the processing of your personal information, or request that your personal information is deleted
- where you have provided personal information voluntarily, or otherwise consented to its use, the right to withdraw your consent
- in certain circumstances, the right to receive a copy of the personal information which you have provided to us, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format
- the right to complain to a Data Protection Authority

If you have a query about this privacy policy or wish to exercise your rights, please contact the Managing Director of Arctic Air Conditioning & Refrigeration Ltd. Contact details are provided at the top of the policy.
