

Two day workshop on: Attachment Relationships and Special Needs.

Thursday 28th & Friday 29th November 2013

10.00am – 3.00pm

at

The Brook Special Primary School

Adams Road, N17 6HW

This two-day workshop is available to professionals working with, and the families of, children with special needs and challenging behaviour.

The workshop will:

- Explore the importance of attachment relationships in addressing challenging behaviour for both the families of children with special needs and the professionals working with the families.
- Draw on the work of FABLE in supporting families to address the challenging behaviour of children with special needs. Along with the exciting work of KCA associates - 'FIVE TO THRIVE' which brings key messages from current neuroscience for early intervention and positive parenting.
- Show the importance of placing the child and the support relationships around the child at the centre of any intervention.
- Identify how to create an attachment aware environment

The cost for this exciting new two-day workshop is:
£10 for parents and carers (concessions will be available).
£50 for professionals.
