Thermal Insulator (Skilled/Un-Skilled)

Despite the Corona Virus lock-down, we have thermal insulation work within the food production industry classified as ESSENTIAL, and are therefore REQUIRED to continue operating, whilst taking ALL POSSIBLE PRECAUTIONS to keep our workforce safe.

Are YOU looking for an opportunity to gain skills or build a career working as a member of a skilled and dedicated team of thermal engineers with great prospects for future promotion?

We believe that even if you don't yet have the required skills or qualifications, as long as you possess strong core values and work ethics, the skills to become an effective thermal engineer can be taught, so don't be deterred if you do not have the technical know-how yet.

If you're the person we're looking for, you'll be driven, self-motivated, successful, great at working as a member of a team, and wanting to earn up to £36,000 a year plus overtime as your skill-level increases. You'll be pushed, asked to achieve great results, taught skills and how to work safely, and eventually become a skilled thermal engineer. You'll be a sensible, responsible person prepared to put in the hard graft to achieve your potential and reap the rewards that are achievable from this starting position. You'll accept only the best performance from yourself and your team, and you'll be ready to take a long-term challenge to create success in both your life, and with TPM Contracting. You'll be inspired, passionate, motivated, and above all ready to learn new skills and undergo continuous training, pushing yourself to achieve more than you ever thought possible.

The work can be strenuous at times, so reasonable physical fitness and a practical, mechanical aptitude will be advantageous.

Starting salary will be commensurate with skills and ability as established during the interview process.

Job Types: Full-time, Permanent

Location: Covering all of UK

Salary: £22,000.00 - £40,000.00 /year
