

Autism - From The Inside Out
22nd June 2016, Bradbury House, Somerset

Most people came to 'Autism – from the inside out' to gain a better understanding of Autism to help support people they work with.

We asked our attendees how they would rate our course presenters on their delivery style

69% said Excellent

31% said Very Good or Good

We asked our attendees how they would rate our course presenters on the course material they used

57% said Excellent

43% said Very Good or Good

100% of respondents said they were 'Very Likely' or 'Likely' to recommend this course to others
87% of those said 'Very Likely'

A selection of open comments from attendees on what they enjoyed, learnt and will take away with them:

"Great, very interactive"

"Makes all of us self reflect on our approach and helps develop our view of how we work"

"Very informative, changes the way you look at Autism"

"Highlights the need to view from the point of view of the individuals we support"

"Great insight and I will take a lot away from the course, especially how I approach situations with service users"

"Learning how people with Autism express themselves"

"How their actions are necessarily emotional"

"How I process and filter information"

"Totally different way of looking at Autism"

"It's not a disorder and should not define someone"

"A non-filtered approach"

"Not to assume I know my service users as well as I think I do"

"Processing info and understanding things may not be behaviours but strategies"

"To not think of Autism as a behaviour"