Previous Course Feedback

"Options sees the development of strong capable leaders as fundamental to our success. We commissioned Judith to deliver emotional intelligence training and development for all our managers, through two residential workshops, and then executive coaching for specific managers/leaders. All have been a resounding success and we have re-commissioned both because we have been so pleased with the impact."

"Judith has a fantastic grasp of her subject - emotional intelligence and thoughtfulness, but also of their application to genuinely enhance the performance of our leaders. In times when expenditure on training is under real pressure the training Judith has provided has represented great value for money, and enhanced the effectiveness of our entire organisation. Managers who have not yet had the opportunity are requesting the chance to develop their leadership through Judith's coaching. All 8 recent coachees are unequivocal in their praise of the impact of Judith's coaching on their work effectiveness and their lives outside of work."
