What is You First?

You First is the Domestic Abuse and Sexual Violence/Crime service delivered by the YOU Trust.

We provide support, advocacy, help and guidance to female and male victims and survivors of domestic abuse and sexual violence. We also provide services to children as victims and/or instigators in their own right.

We have developed services with clients over many years and this includes:

- Outreach
- Refuge
- Resettlement
- Safety planning
- Emotional support
- 24/7 client support
- Support groups
- Recovery Groups
- Children and family work
- IDVA
- ISVA

How to get help?

Self or agency referral by email or by phone

We will contact you to talk about how we can help

We will meet and discuss how we can work together

Together, you and your key worker will develop your support

OR

If we can't help we will let you know and suggest alternative options for you

Supporting and Involving you

We work in partnership with our clients, which means we will discuss all aspects of your support plan and decide any actions together. We will regularly seek your feedback and your views on the service and use these to inform and develop the services.

Your individual support may include:

- Meeting at a time and place to suit you
- Developing and reviewing support plans, risk assessments and actions
- Regular safety planning
- Working with other agencies
- Developing independent living skills
- Group work
- Relocation
- Access to health services
- In-house and/or access to children services
- Parenting Support
- Specialist services for children, young people and families
