

REOPENING

We're delighted to announce that J&J Conversions reopened on Monday 22nd June in line with government guidelines.

We would like to take this opportunity to explain the measures we are taking in relation to COVID-19 and reassure you that your visit to J&J Conversions will be safe.

J&J Conversions is continuing to follow medical, clinically driven, advice from the relevant authorities on what measures are required and effective to deal with COVID-19.

This includes:

- Promoting the latest advice and guidance on COVID-19, which has been supplied by Public Health England and UK Hospitality.
- Providing hand sanitisers throughout J&J Conversions and enhancing our already thorough cleaning procedures with a specific focus on the regular cleaning of hard surfaces.
- Maintaining social distance protocols, as set out by government.
- Prior to opening, we have fully risk assessed our business and we have put new procedures, training and support in place for our team members to provide a COVID-19 safe service for our employees and visitors.
- On arrival and during your time at J&J Conversions we encourage you to observe both the recommendations set out by both the government and the measures we have put in place to ensure the health and safety of your visit.
- We ask that all visitors sanitise their hands upon entering J&J Conversions, visiting reception and all beverage outlets, using the hand sanitisers that will be provided by us.
- Please observe all signs and posters at J&J Conversions. These have been placed to ensure your health and safety.
- If, during your time with us, you believe you may have developed symptoms of COVID-19, please make us aware as soon as possible.
