

Be part of the new Sea Bass Fisheries Management Plan (FMP)

The Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs (DEFRA) will publish a new Fisheries Management Plan (FMP) for sea bass in 2023. DEFRA and Policy Lab are working together to co-create the new plan with a diverse range of individuals and interest groups in this space, and we are inviting you to get involved!

How can you come and talk to us?

Policy Lab will be in Poole for a drop-in session to meet with fishers to discuss experiences of bass and perspectives for the new bass FMP on the 6th of July:

6 July

10.30am-3pm

Quay Cafe Unit 18 Dolphin Quays, The Quay, Poole, BH15 1HU

We are looking forward to hearing your perspectives.

Why should I take part?

- This is a unique opportunity to contribute your views and insights about an important issue that affects every single bass fisher across the country.

How do I sign up to take part in future engagements?

- Completing online form at: tinyurl.com/seabassfmp
- Email bass@policylab.gov.uk

Who are Policy Lab?

Policy Lab is a small multidisciplinary team based at the Department for Education. Their team includes policymakers, designers and researchers. They work with policy teams across the government, supporting them to get closer to the real lives of the people they are creating policy for, and to co-design new solutions.
