Helping you to keep your Jets™ equipment working in tip top condition.

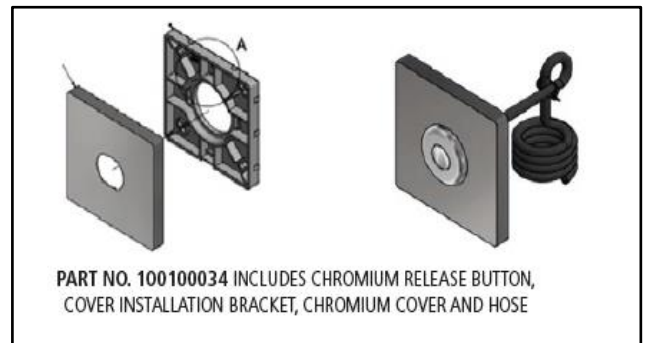

We keep an extensive range of genuine Jets™ spares in stock, all Jets™ spares are manufactured to the high standard you've come to expect.

New Cover option for chromium

After a number of requests from customers, JETS™ are now offering a new and larger cover option for their well-known chromium release button.

The new bracket/cover will mask a larger installation hole than the release button can on its own. The bracket has been designed for use with standard wall boxes and electrical installation, resulting in greater installation flexibility.

Dosing Pump

The new pump offers improved reliability for automated descaling systems.

All current and new orders will be supplied with the new type of dosing pump which has proven its worth both in tests and in operational use.
