

1. General Notes. The tag must be placed on the outside of the pot and must be in a position where it can be clearly seen by inspecting officers. Below are locations where the tag should be displayed on various types of pots and traps.

2. Parlour pots. The tag on these types of pots should be placed on the main frame of the pot near the door/flap. It will be protected to some degree if rolled on the sea bed and shouldn't get in the way of emptying the catch.

3. Inkwell pots. The inkwell pot is more stable as it has a wider base and therefore top of the inkwell is a good point to place the tag, it should be placed through the mesh and around the frame for security.

4. 25 litre drum whelk pots. The handle of these drums is the ideal place as it doesn't interfere with emptying your catch or storage.

5. Upright Whelk Pots. Tags should be placed on the side of the pot and preferably near the top.

6. Cuttle traps. The top of the traps is the preferred location, unhindered in any way and doesn't interfere with storage.
