

Telephone Counselling Consent Agreement

Before I take any details from you, I do need to go through a few formalities regarding data protection. Are you happy to continue?

I will record certain personal information that you give me. This can be as simple as your name and contact details, or could be more personal information that you choose to give to me. This is necessary for me to be able to work with you and on your behalf and becomes a part of a contract between us.

I will keep that information safely and it will not be shared with anyone else, other than I should be legally compelled to do so.

Are you happy to go ahead, being given that information?

During the telephone pre-counselling consultation, I agree to a pre-payment of £30.00 and understand there may be a charge for cancellation without 24hrs notice (the first appointment will be for an hour and a half, offering a free half an hour). We also agree that no calls would be recorded and no other parties will be present during the consultation.
