

New Graduate Veterinary Surgeon

Greenwood Veterinary Clinic is an independently owned small animal practice in Ruislip that is proud to have served the local pet community for over 25 years.

The clinic has a very good reputation locally for providing high-quality personalised client care and treatment, which we are looking to continue.

Our practice is well-equipped with all the necessary gadgets and equipment you expect from a first-opinion practice. Over the past few months, we have been investing in even more equipment (which will also be ongoing). The practice has invested heavily and is now proud to be able to offer digital radiography, quality ultrasound (provided by a postgraduate certificate holder in diagnostic imaging), anaesthetic and blood pressure monitoring equipment, and excellent surgical and consulting facilities. Also, full IDEXX laboratory facilities. Most importantly, we are proud of our excellent team of experienced clinicians, excellent nurses and support staff with the added expertise of a certificate holder in small animal surgery.

This full-time position is equivalent to 40 hours a week with no out-of-hours and only contribution to Saturday morning. We are looking to employ a new graduate with the aim that by the end of the first year, our new vet will be confident and capable in a sole charge situation on a first-opinion basis.

We know the first job really matters, and finding a supportive team to help you get through the first-year post-graduation is important.

We can offer a structured new graduate programme as an independent small animal practice. Our new Graduate Friendly Practice Scheme would provide you with the best start of your career and provide a caring, nurturing, and supportive environment such that you thrive in your role.

We can offer a real opportunity to get to know your client and patients to build up a relationship of trust and respect, with the opportunity to work up and manage your own cases with our supportive, experienced team. Our reputation locally is outstanding, and we are proud to be known as a caring, independent practice.
